Contact Form

The types of personal information collected by my Contact Form are:

Additionally, visitors may leave messages in the contact form, which will be visible to me. Please do not place any information in this field that you do not want me to have.

Facebook Connect

My website uses Facebook Connect. This application allows registered users to log-in and post comments directly to this site, as well as forwarding such posts to their profile "wall". ### Add to Any

Many pages on brianranzoni.com also include an Add to Any applet; this application allows the user to bookmark the given page, share the page on a registered blog or other Internet site, or to email a link to another person. These links will take the the user to third-party websites, where registration or login information may be required for access. ### Amazon Associates

Some pages feature referral links to product pages on Amazon.com. These links are provided by the authority of the Amazon Associates Operating Agreement. I do not directly collect any information from the use of these links. However, Amazon does provide me with aggregate, non-identifying reports to better design my website. Visit Amazon Associates to learn more about this.

The Way I Use Information

I use the information you provide about yourself when making contact only to fulfill that contact. I do not share this information with outside parties except to the extent necessary to complete contact, or to bust spammers and crooks who make the mistake of setting foot in here. I also use the information you provide about someone else only to fulfill contact. I do not share this information with outside parties except to the extent necessary to complete contact.

I use return email addresses to answer the email I receive. Such addresses are not used for any other purpose and are not shared with outside parties.

I do not use Facebook Connect login information. However, comments are visible to all visitors. By using Facebook Connect to comment or share on my website, you agree that Brian Ranzoni is not liable for any information posted on these widgets by you, me, or a third party. In any event, I will not post your personal information in these public forums, not even upon request.

I use non-identifying and aggregate information to better design my website and to share with advertisers or agents. For example, I may tell a publisher or book distributor that X number of individuals visited a certain area on my website, or used certain types of links, but I do not disclose anything that could be used to identify those visitors.

Finally, I never use or share the personally identifiable information provided to me online in ways unrelated to the ones described above without also providing you an opportunity to opt-out or otherwise prohibit such unrelated uses.

Following these links does not constitute any endorsement of, or partnership with, those web pages or the companies or servers who provide them. This privacy policy obviously does not cover what you do in those places, nor do I accept responsibility for any breach which occurs while following links from brianranzoni.com. Please notify me if you suspect one of my links has been hijacked, or if third parties are misrepresenting themselves as brianranzoni.com.

My Commitment To Data Security

To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the correct use of information, I have put in place appropriate physical, electronic, and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information I collect online. When communicating with me, please note that I do not currently use additional encrypted or otherwise secure links beyond those already inherent in our respective service providers.

My Commitment To Children's Privacy

Protecting the privacy of the young also matters to me. For that reason, I don't collect or maintain information at my website from those I know to be under age 13, and no part of this website is structured to attract anyone under 13. This website is for emotionally and intellectually mature folks, not kiddies.
